Singapore, 21 January 2016 – Far East Hospitality announced today that its boutique hotel AMOY has clinched two accolades in TripAdvisor's 2016 Travellers' Choice awards – Top Hotel in Singapore, and Best Hotel for Service in Singapore – for the second year in a row.

TripAdvisor's Top Hotel winners were determined based on the quality of traveller reviews and opinions for properties with a star rating of 3.5 stars and above, and with 30 or more rooms. Best Service hotels were determined based on quality of reviews and ratings for service for properties with a 3-star rating or more. AMOY had received over 528 reviews on TripAdvisor since opening in December 2013, the majority of which were "Very good" or "Excellent" ratings, earning it the spot as the top-rated hotel in Singapore.

"Far East Hospitality is delighted that AMOY has been named Top Hotel in Singapore and Best Hotel for Service in Singapore for the second year running at this year's TripAdvisor Travellers' Choice Hotel Awards. Today's travellers are savvy and have high expectations, so to receive this resounding endorsement is truly a testimony to the unique and intriguing Singaporean heritage experience that AMOY offers. It also affirms our commitment to providing Singapore-inspired service that is both warm and genuine," said Mr Arthur Kiong, Chief Executive Officer of Far East Hospitality.

The 37-room AMOY is the first and only hotel in Singapore to incorporate a museum that traces the footsteps of early immigrants from China. AMOY draws its inspiration from the unique character of its location – Far East Square -- where it is among a collection of shophouses dating back more than 170 years that were conserved with a theme of "Old Meets New, East Meets West".

Located along the original shoreline where early migrants first landed, AMOY's guests enter the contemporary hotel via Fuk Tak Chi, Singapore's first street museum which was formerly a temple and the headquarters for the Hakka and Cantonese communities in the 1800s.

"We are committed to going the extra mile to make our guests feel right at home from the moment they arrive in Singapore. At AMOY, it is our honour and custom to welcome all our foreign guests at the airport, just like how early migrants were picked up by their loved ones upon arriving on Singapore's shores. This is part of our promise to deliver hotel service that is special and personalized," added Mr Kiong.

The interior of the hotel is also designed to mirror the life of Singapore's early Chinese immigrants, but with a modern and contemporary twist. The rooms are designed to include heritage accents with carefully selected furnishings such as traditional Chinese stools and porcelain basin. Each room is emblazoned with a Chinese family name on the door, an ode to the contribution of early migrants who lived around the area; no two rooms are alike in layout and furnishings.

The 2016 Travellers' Choice Hotel Award also saw Far East Hospitality's The Quincy Hotel and Village Hotel Katong among the list of winners. The Quincy Hotel emerged as one of the top-three hotels listed for both categories, coming in second for Best Hotel for Service and third for overall Top Hotel in Singapore, while Village Hotel Katong was also recognized in both categories, coming in 18th and 22nd respectively.

"In addition to this win by AMOY, we are also honoured to have both The Quincy Hotel and Village Hotel Katong recognised at the Travellers' Choice Hotel Awards. As these are the direct ratings of discerning guests, these awards are an endorsement of our philosophy and an encouragement to all of us at Far East Hospitality to continue delivering our brand of Singapore-Inspired Hospitality," said Mr Kiong.
